The Raeburn is an elegant boutique hotel with 10 luxurious double bedrooms, restaurant, bar and private function suite. It caters for a wide range of events including corporate meetings, social gatherings and formal dinners, recognising that flexibility is key to success in all of these.

The Georgian elegance of The Raeburn has been a landmark in Stockbridge since 1832 and eventually fell into disuse over ten years ago. It was then given a stunning new lease of life with a complete refurbishment in 2014, resulting in a perfect marriage between old and new. The history of the building and all its finest features have been carefully preserved and further enhanced with subtle modern touches.

MEET & GREET

The cosy library bar and adjoining private dining room make an ideal event space adaptable to many different event needs. The flueless fireplace, comfy sofas and book lined walls provide the perfect area for pre and post dinner drinks, breakout sessions, coffee breaks and relaxing afternoon teas.

The capacity of the private function area can vary from 12-32 for meetings and formal dinners and increase up to 50 for buffets and drinks receptions. Cocktail masterclasses in the library cater for a minimum number of 8 and maximum of 16. For corporate meetings we have full and half day packages available.

FOOD & DRINK

The Raeburn works with local suppliers to ensure the best seasonal produce is used to create its delicious menus. Catering options are varied and easily adapted to an event, whether that's a canapé drinks reception, buffet, formal dinner or business lunch.

In the library a wall of books folds away to create a private bar where an attentive bartender can remain in post throughout the event. A varied wine, beer and spirit selection ensures something on the menu for all palates.

SERVICE & DETAIL

The delivery of an event is just as important as the organising, so all staff have gone through extensive training to ensure they have up-to-date knowledge of service standards, menus and dishes. The Raeburn takes great pride in customer service and always aims to exceed expectations.

Stockbridge is a well-known northern area of Edinburgh, once home to famous poets and artists such as Sir Henry Raeburn and James Hogg and now a vibrant cultural hub with a bohemian twist. This little village within the city is full of quirky shops, basement bars and fantastic eateries; the nooks and crannies make it a photographer's paradise.

The lively community and rural atmosphere make it hard to believe this area is just a 15 minute walk to the city centre. Backwater pathways, parks and the Royal Botanic Gardens offer perfect locations for a stroll and whether you fancy an adventure or some fresh air after a long day there is always plenty to do.

Organising an event can be stressful which is why we tailor packages and offerings to specific needs ensuring each event runs smoothly from start to finish without a hitch.
